

iQ3CORP LISTED ON THE AUSTRALIAN SECURITIES EXCHANGE

iQ3Corp Limited has successfully listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) after its IPO.

Quotation of the company's securities went live at 11.00 am (Sydney time) this morning following a heavily oversubscribed IPO. iQ3Corp is the world's first specialised life science corporate finance and advisory firm and is a member of the iQ Group Global companies.

The company prides itself on being able to work in such an innovative sector, and will play a leading role in bridging science with capital for people and companies developing life-changing technologies.

iQ3Corp will achieve this through its complete range of service offerings:

- Initial Public Offerings (IPO)
- Listings
- Underwrite security offerings
- Mergers and Acquisitions (M&A)
- Sell-side advisory
- Buy-side advisory
- Structured finance

With its industry access and talented management team at the helm, iQ3Corp is poised to become a major player in the Australian life science industry, helping its participants – over 900 unlisted companies with a mountain of high-potential intellectual property sitting in labs – fulfil their potential.
